

It is now easier than ever to stay Green.

Did you know that your entire phone system can use less energy than a single laptop? This is groundbreaking news when you consider the running time that your phone system requires.

Having a more efficient phone system will mean that you are cutting down on your total cost of ownership. And with no recurring costs, owning your own telephone system is a very smart way to go.

ShoreTel switches consume an extraordinarily low wattage; some switches as low as only 17 W max. This low energy consumption is partly due to the use of advanced no-moving-part technology which will also save money on its increased life expectancy.
